Police Warn On Holiday Driving

Lower Bucks County highways will be clogged starting tomorrow with motorists streaming to vacation spots for the long Memorial Day weekend and extra police will be out to keep a wary eye on motorists.

National Safety Council officials urge extreme care on the roads to hold the death toll under an anticipated total of 350.

Gov. George M. Leader today urged all Pennsylvania motorists to use "a lot more will power and a little less horsepower" on the highways during the coming Memorial Day weekend.

The governor said the state police will have every available man on duty over the weekend patrolling the highways in marked and unmarked cars.

"For many families this will be the first holiday trip of the year," he said. "Certainly, every driver should see that his car is functioning properly before he heads for the highways. Faulty brakes or ineffective headlights can result in tragedy."

"Drive as if your life depends on it," a safety spokesman said, "because it does."

Area police listed drunken driving as the most serious cause of accidents.

"Don't drink if you intend to drive and don't drink if you intend to drink," police officials stated.

Extra Men

Lower Bucks County police will have extra men on duty this weekend in an attempt to hold down the traffic accidents and possible fatalities.

Bristol Township Police Chief John R. Stewart warned motorists "to take it easy. Those who drive carefully and safely over the weekend will still be around to drive Monday," Chief Stewart said.

Bristol Township includes the heavily-traveled approach to the Burlington-Bristol Bridge where extra officers will be stationed.

Chief Franklin Kirby, Falls Township, said most of the heavy traffic in his area is on Route 1. "We will have extra men there to control the flow," he said.

"Courtesy on the highway will be the most effective safety factor," Chief Kirby said.

Chiefs Howard C. Shook, Middletown Township, and William Riempp, Bensalem Township, also will be responsible for heavy traffic on the south end of Route 1.

Extra patrols will be available in both areas.

"We will have fewer accidents if everyone slows down," Chief Shook said.

Other area chiefs including Vincent Faragalli, Bristol Borough; John Walterick, Tullytown; John S. Davis, Morrisville; Robert Waterson, Lower Makefield; Frank Morgan, Yardley; Ed Wunsch, Southampton, and Sergeant Charles Jones of the State Police, Fairless Hills sub-station, also urged extreme caution while on the highways.

The National Safety Council offered this bit of driving advice for motorists. "Be prepared, be courteous, be patient and be safe."

PARIS (UPI) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle left his home 150 miles east of Paris suddenly today. There was speculation he was answering a call from President Rene Coty to attend a conference of political leaders preparatory to forming a new government for France.

Simultaneously, thousands of angry Communists and Socialists massed in Paris' Bastille quarter — historic starting point of the French Revolution of 1789 — to protest de Gaulle's apparently steady rise to power.

De Gaulle sped away from his home at Colomby - Les - Deux-Eglises in his black Citroen shortly after 5 p.m. (noon e.d.t.).

His destination was not known immediately.

Coty, striving desperately to find an escape from the threat of a military dictatorship or a Communist grab for power, began his crucial conferences at 4 a.m.

He refused to accept Premier Pierre Pflimlin's resignation until a new government could be formed. Pflimlin, his government, crumbling around him, asked to quit after he was unable to muster a constitutional majority in a shouting, fist - waving session of the General Assembly Tuesday night.

Coty asked him to stay on as caretaker.

A lightning strike shut down Paris subways, buses and suburban trains, coinciding with the anti - de Gaulle demonstrations and hitting the capital at its rush hour.

At least 50,000 demonstrators marched into the Place de la Bastille at 5 p.m., at the same time de Gaulle was leaving home.

De Gaulle who had declared he would take power only by legal means, had conducted a round of consultations of his own. Two of his free French associates of wartime — Marshal Alphonse Juin

Ike Says Recession Is Fading

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today he believes the recession has largely spent its force.

But he cautioned against any optimism that a healthy economic upturn would occur in the near future.

He told a news conference that some of the economic indices point to an upturn. But he said one swallow does not make a summer.

Some parts of the national economy, such as the auto and other durable goods industries, still are not doing too well, he said.

On the whole, he said, the nation is weathering the recession well.

In other news conference remarks, the President:

— Said that as of now the economic situation does not warrant anti - recession tax cuts that would greatly increase the federal budget deficit.

Discusses Domestic Matters

— Said he would deplore any peacetime attempt to control wages and prices. But he said he feels strongly that both must be held down in an effort to maintain stable living costs and a sound dollar.

— Declined to comment on the crises in France and Lebanon. But he did say he happened to like Gen. Charles de Gaulle. (The French general appears headed for control of the French government.)

Because of the President's refusal to discuss the French crisis, his new conference was devoted almost entirely to domestic matters.

The President mostly was in a serious and calm mood. But there were several chuckles, including one when a reporter identified himself as representing United Press International.

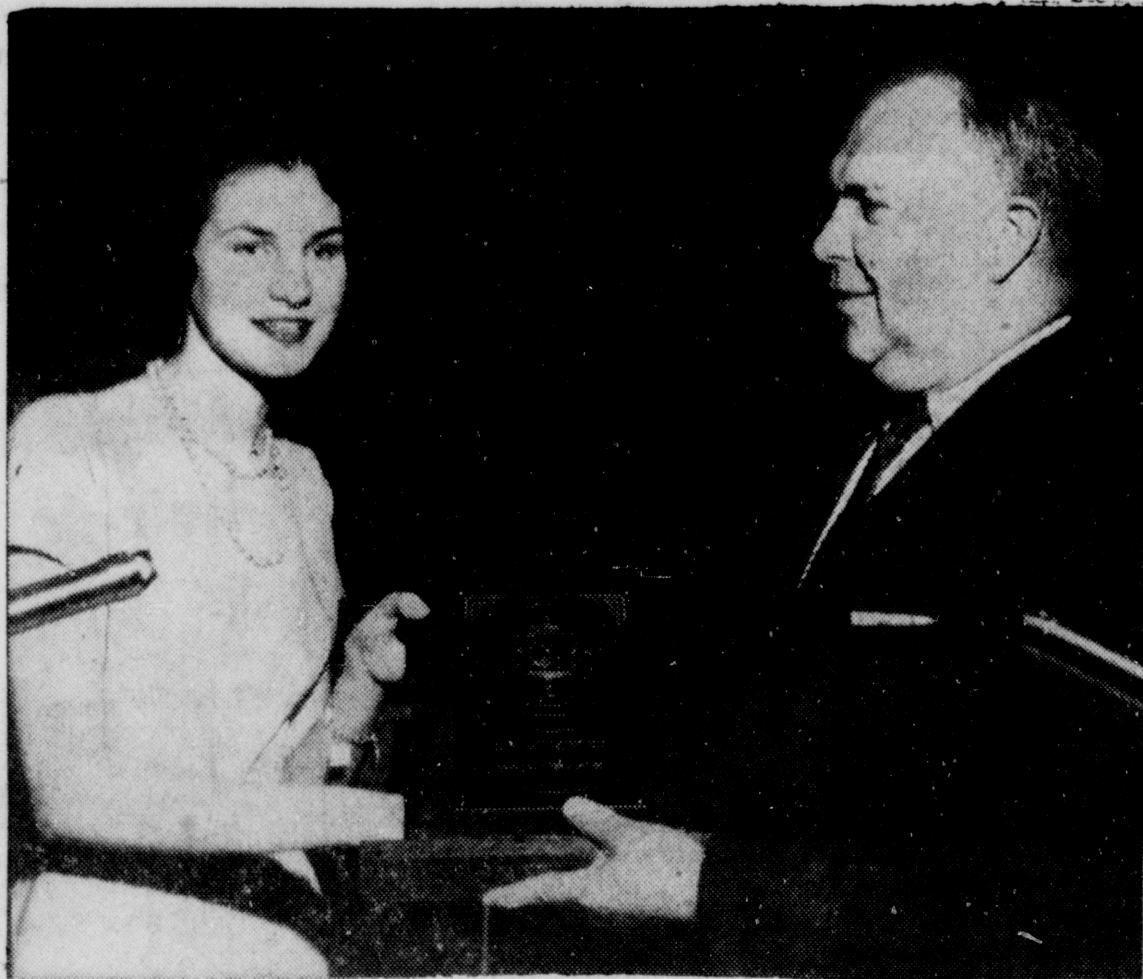

As to his decision against a tax cut, he said that a question in which a tax reduction was identified as an anti-recession measure appeared to be loaded. He said he was not so sure that it would have an anti-recession effect.

The President said he and his economic aides had tax reforms and reductions under constant study. But as of now he said, they do not believe large tax cuts are justified in the light of increased federal spending.

Eisenhower expressed hope, however that Congress will approve the minor tax reforms and

Girl Wins Delhaas' Highest Award

Dr. Guy F. Eberhart, regional superintendent of Delhaas schools, presents the Lamp award to Sallie Shropshire who had the highest scholastic average for the three-year-period at the school. The presentation was made at the school's Awards program last night. (Courier-Times Photo).

Delhaas Presents Awards Before 700

Sallie Shropshire and Stewart Alexander won the lion's share of honors at Delhaas High School's fifth annual award night program, last night. A capacity crowd of more than 700 persons witnessed the program.

Sallie walked off with the Lamp award, as the highest scholastic average over three years. Alexander won the Key award for second highest average. In addition he and Joan Bauer won the "D" award as the students most actively engaged in co-curricular activities.

Joan Bauer and Alexander also won the PTA award as the most outstanding senior boy and girl. Alexander was presented with a full four-year scholarship to the University of Southern California as well as the $500 PTA scholarship. Borgny Nordstrom also received a $500 PTA scholarship.

In addition to the Lamp Award Sallie Shropshire won a $50 prize put up by the Newportville Women's Association.

Robert P. Martin, school principal, was master of ceremonies.

3 Railroad Commuter Fares Hiked

HARRISBURG (UP)—A sympathetic Public Utility Commission has granted three major railroads "temporary" commuter fare increases while it studies their second attempt to prove the additional revenue is necessary and justified.

The commission yesterday ordered the Pennsylvania, the Reading Co., and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads to hike their fares approximately 15 per cent in all classifications immediately, but subject to refunds should the PUC study reveal the increases were not warranted.

Last month the commission rejected the railroads' petitions for fare boosts after finding in the record of months of public hearings that they had failed to prove their case in support of the petitions.

At that time, the PUC indicated it would welcome a reopening of the case because it was "not unmindful of the difficulties presently confronting the railroads."

The increase is based on a combination of a flat $1.50 hike in the price of unrestricted tickets, plus 10 cents a mile up to $4. Other types of commuter fares will be increased proportionately.

Magda Gabor's Hubby Gagged, Robbed

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two gunmen, posing as florist deliverymen, bound and gagged the contractor husband of Magda Gabor and made off with more than $25,000 in jewels and cash yesterday.

Miss Gabor, the eldest of the famed Gabor sisters, was at a beauty parlor when the men invaded the apartment. They bound Miss Gabor's husband, Arthur Gallucci, ransacked her jewelry box in the duplex apartment and took Gallucci's wallet containing $653.

After A Good Start

Vanguard Satellite Fails To Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The 20-inch satellite blasted aloft in the nose of the Vanguard rocket last night failed to go into orbit, the Navy said today.

An announcement said the artificial moon fell back into the atmosphere.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Vanguard project, said in a statement that the rocket "appeared to function well through the firing of all three stages but still did not result in an orbit for the 20-inch sphere."

He said that "when the Satellite's radio signal was received by the Navy's downrange minitrack station at Antigua Island, BWI, indications were that an orbit had been achieved." Hagen said, "The Vanguard scientific package reached a great altitude and it is expected that the large sphere will provide much valuable scientific information."

Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the International Geophysical Year satellite program, issued the same statement in Washington.

Signals Received

Porter said the satellite radioed data to earth for 15 to 25 minutes after it was fired "and possibly for as much as a half hour."

He said the third stage of the pencil - slim rocket apparently fired at too high an angle to the earth. He said this may have been caused by an error of the "attitude" of the second stage at the time the final stage of the rocket ignited.

Porter said the third stage was ignited by a signal from the ground rather than by automatic controls within the rocket.

But he said this did not necessarily mean anything went wrong with the automatic firing device.

Will Try Again

Porter said another satellite containing the same instruments as last night's ill-fated moon, probably would be fired within a month.

He said scientists would not know what happened until they evaluated all data received from the ill-fated Vanguard.

He said the satellite's radio signal was picked up at these points: Cape Canaveral; Antigua; Havana, Cuba; Ft. Monmouth, N.J.; Blossom Point, Md.; Ft. Steward, Ga.; and Aberdeen, Md.

Porter said the satellite could have been off course as much as 90 degrees. The satellite, he said, carried no life of any form.

Flags At Half Mast For Unknown Soldiers

The Bristol Post office, with other governmental buildings, is flying its flag at half mast today to mark the return of the unknown soldiers of the Second World War and the Korean War.

Lawrence Mulligan, Bristol postmaster, said the flag will be at half mast tomorrow and Friday as well. President Eisenhower urged all citizens to fly flags at half mast for the three days.

The Vanguard Goes Up

Paris In The Spring...

PARIS (UPI) — Paris in the spring... a rain - washed night and the moon bright beneath a silver ceiling of clouds.

Lovers arm in arm along the left bank of the Seine, oblivious of everything but themselves.

The standing room only signs out for the red - nosed clowns and the lush and leggy chorus girls in the Folies Bergere and the Lido.

(But so few cross the broad Pont de la Concorde over the Seine to the National Assembly. "Apathy?" smiles the police officer with the radio chattering in his command car. "Ah, no. The Parisian is very well behaved. Why should he come here when he can read about it in his newspaper, eh?")

This doesn't explain why the well-behaved Parisian requires so many police around his legislature.

But the lovers are kissing now.

Bensalem School Board Member Is Charged With Shoplifting

William H. States Jr., 3648 Hulmeville Road, Cornwells Heights, a Bensalem school board member, was arrested yesterday for shoplifting and disorderly conduct allegedly committed in Montgomery County. States gave himself up to police when he learned of the charges.

States is charged with the theft of a small package of luncheon meats he is alleged to have put in his pocket last Sunday while shopping at the Montgomeryville Mart, Montgomeryville.

Manager's Statement

Police said States ran from the market, jumped into his car, and sped home. Charles Kitchen of Norristown, a manager of a concession at the market, claims he saw States take the meat and pass the check-out counter without paying for it. States paid for other small purchases, he said, but not the meat which was in his pocket.

The manager said he then walked up to States, but the defendant ran and drove away, he said. A market guard, Albert McMurray, of Philadelphia, said he attempted to stop the Cornwells man and was nearly hit by the car.

Montgomery Township police traced the suspect to his home through his automobile license number. He was not home at that time.

Asks About Charges

States later called a Montgomeryville magistrate, asked about the charges and said he would surrender. He surrendered yesterday. The magistrate, Samuel E. Browne, fined States $50 for shoplifting and $25 for disorderly conduct.

States has decided to appeal the case in Montgomery County Court's, and posted $172 bond, twice the amount of the fines and costs.

Route 1, Old Lincoln Highway
Connecting Link To Be Built

Middletown
Twp. Starts
Test Borings

Middletown Township will build a new connecting road between Route 1 and Old Lincoln Highway this summer it was revealed today by Charles Melchior, township manager.

Actually, he said, the township will rebuild Flowers Mills Road, which comes out on Route 1 between Route 413 and the Country Club Shopping center. The road is not used much since it is little more than a dirt path in spots.

Test Borings

Melchior said test borings began this morning to determine the type of bridge that would be necessary to carry the rebuilt road over a small creek in the area.

Construction of the road and rebuilding of the bridge would run about $23,000, the manager said.

He said the rebuilt road would be a direct link between the upper and lower ends of the township. Motorists would be able to travel from one end to the other without going through Pennel and Langhorne.

Work would probably start early in July, Melchior said. He added that it would take awhile to prepare plans after the tests were completed and that the plans would then have to be approved by the state and advertised for bids.

Canal Condition Blamed
2 Sections Complain
Of Tent Caterpillars

Bristol Township Commissioner Harold Lefcourt today called on the State Department of Forest and Waters to either maintain the Delaware Canal and the trees on it or kill it.

Lefcourt said the trees along the canal behind the Junewood and Kenwood sections of Levittown, are infested with hordes of tent caterpillars which are swarming over homes.

Spraying Equipment

The situation is so bad, the commissioner said, that the township was forced to rent spraying equipment yesterday to give the residents some relief. Lefcourt said township manager, Henry J. Rolies, Jr., ordered township workmen into the area with special equipment after the township building was swamped with complaints.

Lefcourt said the problem is one of maintenance. "If the department of Forest and Waters took better care of the canal things like this wouldn't happen," he said.

Lefcourt, who represents the township's Seventh Ward, including Kenwood and Junewood, said that if the state was unable to maintain the canal and keep it as a park it should then fill it in or pipe it.

Tullytown Speed Trap
Nabs 38 Motorists

A Saturday afternoon speed trap at Tullytown netted 38 motorists, Chief John B. Waltherick, Tullytown Police, reported today.

The trap was set along Main St., from the Meenan Oil Co. terminal to Oxford - Fallsington Ave. (660 feet). The speed limit for the area is 25 mph, but no motorist was ticketed who did not go over 35 mph., Chief Waltherick said. Most of the cars were stopped for speeding but several were halted for illegal passing, police reported.

The traffic violations carry a fine of $10 and $5 costs.

Man Found Innocent
Of Statutory Rape

Michael Jarzyk, 66 Tall Pine Lane, Levittown, yesterday was found innocent of statutory rape by a Bucks County jury. He had been charged with an offense against a 14-year-old girl, a year ago.

Showers Seen
For Tonight

Scattered showers will splash Lower Bucks County tonight with the long holiday weekend starting clear and cool tomorrow.

After temperatures hit 80 today, they will fall to 55 tonight and climb back to 75 tomorrow. Showers are expected tonight and again possibly Friday or Saturday, according to the Trenton Weather Bureau.

Holiday weekend temperatures will average slightly under the normal of 68.

Little League Director
Suffers Heart Attack

Andrew Brown, Fairless Hills, district Little League director, was stricken yesterday afternoon with a coronary attack.

He was in serious condition and placed under oxygen when he was taken to Lower Bucks Hospital. The hospital reported his condition was still serious today but he is showing signs of improvement.

Two Unknown
Heroes Laid
In State

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two nameless heroes of World War II and Korea returned to their native soil today and were laid in state in the Capitol rotunda amid the highest honors the republic can bestow.

Both houses of Congress, the Supreme Court, the diplomatic corps and the highest officers of all the military services joined in a simple, wordless six-minute ceremony as the flag-draped caskets were carried up the Capitol's east steps and placed atop black covered catafalques beneath the enormous dome.

Smartly drilled enlisted men from all services took up their posts as honor guards for the lying-in-state which will last until Friday afternoon. Then the two unknown heroes will be taken to Arlington Memorial Cemetery for reburial with the unknown of World War I. President Eisenhower will lead the nation in tribute.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon placed the first wreath — a huge circle of carnations from "the Congress of the United States."

Speaker Sam Rayburn followed with an identical wreath, also from Congress. Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa, the Nicaraguan ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, followed with a third identical floral piece from all the diplomats.

The unknowns — Symbolic representatives of the 320,000 dead of two wars — finally came to home soil at 9:30 a.m. e.d.t. when they were carried ashore at the naval gun factory from the destroyer Blandy.

Nude Photos
Case Opens

The trial of Joseph and Catherine Short, 3509 Second Ave., West Bristol, charged with making and possessing obscene photographs and corrupting the morals of two girls by having them pose began yesterday in Bucks County Courts.

The defendants waived a jury and are being tried by President Judge Edward G. Biester. The Shorts are charged with 11 counts.

The charges include possession of obscene photos with intent to sell or exhibit, manufacturing and uttering of obscene photos, use of a minor child in the pictures, contributing to the delinquency of a child, and corrupting and tending to corrupt the morals of a child.

Witnesses yesterday were Bristol Township Patrolmen Samuel Rice, and Henry Kleckner. The patrolmen brought to court photographic equipment they said was seized at the Short home.

They submitted in evidence nude photos, some of which were found in an album at the home, the police said, and some of which were enlarged and printed in the police photo lab from negatives found at the home.

Two girls, 15 and 16 years old, are involved in the charges. One of them yesterday testified that she posed in the nude for some of the pictures.

'Lookout' Gets
Prison Term

A Philadelphia youth, who admitted to being the "lookout" in a chain of service station burglaries in March, yesterday was sentenced to three months in Bucks County Prison, Doylestown.

Henry Schweitzer pleaded guilty to burglary charges in Bensalem and Bristol townships, and in Bristol Borough. Police said he had two accomplices.

Indefinite Term

One of the accomplices, Charles Smith, was earlier sentenced to an indefinite term in the state Industrial School, Camp Hill. The other, Anthony DeMuro, hasn't been tried yet. All three are Philadelphians.

Testifying for the Commonwealth, yesterday were police chiefs William Riempp, Bensalem; Vincent Faragalli, Bristol Borough; and Patrolman Harry Smith, Bristol Township, with Philadelphia Detective Edward Moffett.

Birthday Party First

Levittown Youth Will Undergo Delicate 'Open Heart' Surgery

Richard Paul Pesce will not be 13 until June 29. But Sunday he will have a birthday party with all the trimmings at his grandmother's house in Morrisville.

Richard, who lives at 16 Pennsive Lane, Pinewood, Levittown, enters the University of Pennsylvania Hospital Monday for a delicate "open heart" operation.

50 Pints Needed

Even without complications, Richard will need about 50 pints of blood for the serious operation.

Residents of Lower Bucks answered his mother's plea last month when 83 pints were collected for the Levittown youngster.

"We'll have a big birthday cake for him with candy and cokes and all the goodies," Mrs. Pesce said. "About 25 relatives and friends will be at my mother's house."

Mrs. Pesce's mother, Mrs. Florence Person, 509 Berwyn Road, has a pool outside the home.

"It's just a perfect place for a party," Mrs. Pesce said.

Richard, a fourth grader in St. Michael's School, Levittown, will be with his dad, Michael, and his two sisters, Donna Rae, 3, and Barbara Ann, 6, at the party as well as his mother and the other relatives and friends.

Operation June 11

The boy will be at the University Hospital at 8:30 Monday morning. He will stay there several days for observation before the operation which is scheduled June 11.

The right side of his heart will be cut open to close a seepage of air which has been leaking into his lungs.

Richard's operation is comparatively new in the field, having been performed for less than two years.

Two University heart specialists, Drs. Kirby and Johnson, will head the medical crew of the hospital staff in the operation.

reductions he has recommended for relief of small business.

Aim At Sound dollar

He said government policy is aimed at a sound dollar and a stable cost of living. He added, however, he does not know what the government can do about rising prices other than combat them with its fiscal policies.

He said his economic aides had told him labor costs accounted for about 80 per cent of the price of durable goods. As long as wages go up, he said, prices are bound to rise too.

The President was asked when he expects the nation to get back on the road to prosperity.

He replied that he certainly was no prophet and therefore was not capable of saying when there would be a healthy upturn. But he added that some economic statistics indicate that the worst of our problems are behind us.

25-Cent Fee
Set To Park
At RR Lot

Communters who use the Pennsylvania Railroad parking lot at Bristol will pay a 25-cent charge for up to 12 hours parking starting in a month.

The parking lot area has been leased to Maiden Lane Parking Inc. The firm is to improve the lot to provide a paved area for 165 designated parking spaces.

The remainder of the lot, the PRR announced today, will be graded smooth and will be available for overflow use. The second area is to be paved if the number of cars using it is sufficient.

Fenced And Lighted

N. L. Fleckenstine, New York regional manager for the PRR, announces the parking lot will be entirely fenced and lighted. The parking lot extends from Washington St. to Jefferson Ave., between the railroad and Prospect St. A sidewalk, curbing and gutter are to be installed on the west side of Jefferson Ave.

"For some time we have wanted to improve our Bristol parking facilities," Fleckenstine said. "However, with our passenger service operating at a deficit of more than $57,000,000 a year, we cannot afford to assume the additional costs of providing the improvements and maintaining them. The income from the parking charge will make that possible."
